Integrated Communications, Navigation & Surveillance (ICNS) Conference

ICNS 2020 · April 21-23 · Westin Washington Dulles · Herndon, VA · <http://i-cns.org>

Greetings,

My name is Mark Darnell. I'm a member of the executive committee that organizes the Integrated Communications, Navigation, and Surveillance (ICNS) Conference supported by the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA) and the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE).

As a past participant or sponsor of the ICNS Conference, I'm sending this e-mail to solicit your interest in sponsoring the conference in 2020. As the premier industry event for fostering the advancement of CNS/ATM programs, policies, standards, research, and technologies, the ICNS Conference is an exceptional opportunity to promote and advertise your company's products and services to the international CNS/ATM community. The ICNS Conference is arguably the best venue for reaching out and connecting with candidate customers and collaborators in government, private industry, and academia — where your brand is exposed, and clients come to you. As well, depending on your level of support, conference attendance by members of your organization is complementary.

The levels of sponsorship and fees are set forth below together with points of contact.
